Digital Transformation, Industry 4.0 and Human Resources Management: Innovative skills to enhance HE students' employability, flexibility and transversal capabilities

Final Project Conference in Rome, Italy

The final project conference was held on 27.11.2024 in Rome, Italy in the premises of the Italian partner Luiss Business school. The closing event was attended by the project coordinator and partners who presented the main results and achievements of the project to students, professors, external stakeholders, etc.

The event provided a stage for a very interesting panel discussion about digitization, exploring its effects on business improvement and the impact of digitalization on organizational innovation. Leading partners and experts from Deloitte and Ernst & Young, Italy talked about the new trends in AI development and its application within organizations. They presented good practices and new software based on AI in the field of HRD in the business world.

At the end of the event, the partners and the guest lecturers held a Q&A session with the conference participants. The conference ended with a cocktail, thus providing opportunity for networking and continuation of the fruitful discussion in a non-formal way.

Final Partner Meeting

The final in-person project meeting was held the next day, 28.11.2024, at the same venue. During the meeting, the partners from Poland, Slovakia, Bulgaria, Latvia, Spain, and Italy discussed the plan for the forthcoming activities, next steps, and deadlines related to the project conclusion and reporting. The consortium partners expressed their satisfaction with the achieved results in the DigiWork project and their will to continue their collaboration and upgrade of the project in the future.

Multiplier Events

In addition to the final conference, five project partners disseminated the project results in their countries within the project national conferences. The partners from Poland, Spain, Bulgaria, Latvia and Slovakia involved more than 80 participants from the project target groups - students, lecturers, entrepreneurs, and others - who were interested in learning about the project and applying its results to their future practice and professional lives.

We want to thank all partners for the fruitful collaboration and to all who contributed to the successful implementation of the DigiWork project!

Pilot Testing

In November 2024, the partners of DigiWork project organized and conducted pilot testings of all language versions of the DigiWork integrated platform in their countries with IT specialists, experts, students, etc. The results of the testings aimed at improving the online project output and enhancing the digital experience of project's target groups with its deliverables.
